FALL OF TOLEDO PUTS CAPITAL IN NEW PERIL

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)
CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—Japan as a measure of self-defense, sends an armed force, politely called a landing party, six hundred miles into the interior of China, and declares martial law in certain areas of Shanghai.

In defense of hearth, home and altars, Japan has penetrated far into Manchuria during recent years. There is no spot so remote that some patriotic Japanese subject may not hope to be murdered there to provide a diplomatic excuse for the advance of empire. The League of Nations whetted Japan's appetite by giving her some of Germany's Asiatic possessions. Now the league is powerless to halt the steady and ruthless gobbling of China by Japan.

Japanese militarists do not care a fig or a firecracker for world opinion. They believe that if they can capture enough world trade and territory, the opinion will come around. Many nations are commercially interested in the Open Door in China, but they are so busy with their own affairs that they pretend not to see the Japanese soldier who is standing guard in the doorway.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Oiling of state route 956, from New Castle to East Brook, is scheduled for this week, according to the De-tour Bulletin of the state highway department, for the week ending October 2. There are no new detours in the district and no other oiling operations are scheduled for this vicinity.

Sample bracket lights erected on North street, between East and Mill streets certainly light up the thoroughfare in great shape.

Ashes are being piled at points of various locations along the highway, under an indication that winter weather conditions will soon be with us once again. The ashes are used to scatter on the icy hills to prevent skidding. It will be but a few weeks until work of erecting the snow fences will again be in progress.

Pa Newc notes that fall grass or crab grass, as it is often called, has infested a lot of lawns about the city. The pest got quite a start during the dry weather this summer and has now died, leaving lawns which were affected, a brown color.

Fall flowers are at their most beautiful stage at the present time, and people who have beautiful flower gardens are hopeful that the killing frosts will hold off for some time yet.

Pa Newc notes that an old church building at East Brook is being razed.

Another traffic peril is approaching, that of falling leaves. Especially in rainy weather are leaves on the highway a peril to motorists.

When firemen answered an alarm from Box 23 on Neshannock avenue this morning, they found no fire. Instead, there was a much surprised woman, who had recently moved here from a town, where they have TOLEDO, Spain, Sept. 28.—Victors in a last quarterless combat that left the gates of Toledo choked with the bodies of more than 300 slain loyalists, the army of Gen. Francisco Franco paused today only for a brief celebration with the rescued prisoners of the Alcazar, then rushed to the Madrid road to block it against a counter-attack by the fleeing leftists.

Coincident with this story-book ending to the 61 days' epic of the Alcazar came the "whites" announcement that the almost equally long siege of Cordova by Madrid troops

Fall Is Fatal To Young Girl

Receives Fractured Skull In Fall Down Cellar Stairs Saturday

DIES LATER IN HOSPITAL HERE

Injuries received when she fell down the cellar stairs at her home about 10:45 o'clock Saturday morning resulted in the death of Sophia Elizabeth Budzowski, aged 13, of 112 Wilder avenue, who passed away in the New Castle hospital at 11:15 o'clock Saturday evening.

The child, whose mother died only three weeks ago, had been up most of the night with one of the youngest children in the family who had been ill with a toothache. She had lain down on a couch downstairs and fallen asleep the next morning, and is believed to have been aroused and to have started to the cellar while still in a sleepy condition and to have lost her footing and fallen down the stairway.

She did not seem seriously injured at the time, complaining of a severe pain in her head, but was conscious. Later in the day, her condition became worse and at 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening was taken to the hospital, where she died a short time later.

Sophia Elizabeth was born in New Castle on April 18, 1923, and passed all of her 13 years here. She had been a high ranking eighth grade student at Mahoning junior high school, was well liked and had many friends.

She leaves her father, Joseph Budzowski; two sisters, Bertha and Priscilla, and her grandmother, Mrs. Eliza Hartman.

Funeral services will be conducted at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the home, with Rev. H. L. Johnson of the Simpson M. E. church in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Landon Is Returning To Topeka, Confident Of November Victory

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD LONDON SUNFLOWER SPECIAL, Sept. 28.—With a forecast by former Governor Frank O. Lowden of "November victory" ringing in his ears, Governor Alfred M. Landon headed for Topeka today after expounding his policies on farm relief, foreign trading and social security on a 1,900-mile political tour of the farm belt.

Just as Lowden predicted the Republican nominee would "carry Illinois" and "win in November," so did other prominent leaders prophesy his stand on farm and social questions would result in G. O. P. victories in Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Whatever his fate, Landon was given tumultuous greetings throughout the corn, wheat and dairy belts, leaving enthused, victory sensing Republican organizations in his wake.

Republican Sentiment
The comment of Lowden, at whose farm Landon was an overnight guest, echoed Republican sentiment throughout the farm belt. After announcing he would make three major speeches for Landon, the first at Waterloo, Iowa, October 6, the 75-year-old Lowden said:

Motor Club Governors Honor Ralph Bolsinger

Several short addresses were given and Mr. Bolsinger presented with a scroll containing a resolution of appreciation and a fine new radio.

Attorney George W. Muse acted as master-of-ceremonies during the speaking program. In his remarks Mr. Muse lauded the work of Mr. Bolsinger as president, recalled that he had led the workers list in 1929, when he turned in more members than anyone else, and that since his election as president he had been active in motor club work, as well as civic work.

(BULLETIN) (International News Service)

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Sept. 28.—Fierce fire-laden winds that brought death and destruction to southern Oregon calmed today.

Highways were opened into Bandon, and one emergency communication telephone line was established.

MARSHFIELD, Oregon, Sept. 28.—With the known death toll in Oregon's worst forest fires now at eight, and at least 20 other persons missing, thousands of fire-fighters battled furious flames along a 40-mile front here today.

A dozen towns, several of which are now on fire, were directly in the path of the racing fire demon.

The fires were whipping down from the forests toward this coastal area where death and blackened desolation was in evidence everywhere.

Town Wiped Out

President Works On His Addresses

Five Speeches To Be Delivered During Next Four Days

IN SYRACUSE ON TUESDAY NIGHT

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 28.—President Roosevelt buried himself in his Hyde Park study today and devoted the major portion of his time to dictating notes and rough drafts on five speeches he will deliver in the next four days.

Two at least come in the category of major campaign addresses, one tomorrow night in Syracuse before the New York state Democratic convention, and a second on the evening of October 1 before a Democratic rally at Pittsburgh.

Leaves On Tuesday.
Heading out from Hyde Park tomorrow morning, the president planned to tour four eastern states in the same number of days. All are listed in the currently doubtful column—New York, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

It was considered likely that Mr. Roosevelt would call attention in one of his appearances to the currency stabilization agreement with France and Great Britain. The New Deal has been working to this end for three years and both the White House and the treasury are jubilant over their success in at last attaining a flexible basis of exchange to substitute for the old gold standard.

France Proceeds On Devaluation

Action On Franc To Be Taken By Chamber Of Deputies

SEE APPROVAL OF MOVE TODAY

By LINDSAY PARROTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Sept. 28.—Roars of "rubber franc!" thundered through the Chamber of Deputies today and drowned out a government speaker's explanation of the franc devaluation bill, but the left-wing coalition's steam roller crushed all opposition and paved the way to certain parliamentary approval of the "nickel franc."

Over the tumultuous opposition of the center and right parties in the chamber, the deputies smashed by 365 to 246 an attempt by the gold bloc to jam through a motion sending the finance bill back to committee.

The chamber then adjourned until four p. m., when passage of the devaluation measures will have the support of the radical Socialists, who voted to support the government by a ballot of 55 to 13 in party caucus.

Thanks America
The finance committee's report on the franc bill was howled down by oppositionists in the midst of his expression of thanks to the United States government for its co-operation in warding off a currency war.

The stormy rightist attack on the proposed 23 to 30 per cent cut in the franc's worth was led by Deputy Pierre Colomb, who pointed out that the aid of America and England (Continued On Page Two)

Government Subordinates All Other Efforts To Saving Madrid

By THOMAS A. LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MADRID, Sept. 28.—News of the fall of Toledo to the rebels flashed today through underground channels, leading to a desperate government admission that more troops are needed for a "back to the wall" defense of the capital to make Madrid "the tomb of Fascism."

All men, even if able only to "bear a pick and shovel," were called upon to march forth and stem the insurgent tide, while women were begged to "take your place at the side of the men."

Cut Water Consumption
Indirectly admitting that the rebels controlled the Madrid water supply at the reservoirs of Lozoya, the Madrid city council ordered consumption of water cut down by 94 per cent. Severe penalties were ordered for those using more than six per cent of the normal amount, although it was insisted that "there is no lack of water and no risk of the failure of the supply."

Two furious engagements were reported under way on the two roads leading to the southwest of (Continued On Page Two)

TROOPS PATROL TEXAS CITY

Waco Flooded By Heavy Rains

FLOOD WARNING AT AUSTIN ALSO

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 28.—Martial law prevailed in flood ravaged Waco, today and an estimated 2000 refugees, their homes inundated by the rampant Brazos river, were being fed at National Guard field kitchens.

Troops were placed in charge of the flooded section of the city last night to prevent possible looting and disorder.

The slow rise of the river enabled police to warn residents in the low-lying sections of the city before the levee burst, and it was believed there was no loss of life. Some of the households were unable to evacuate their homes before the angry flood waters swept through the streets, but they were rescued by boats.

Martial Law

Martial law prevailed only in the flooded eastern section of the city. Continued downpours of rain in the watershed caused the river to continue to rise today, and a tremendous property loss is feared.

Waco, a city of 60,000, ninety miles south of here, is just below the junction of the Brazos and Bosque rivers.

At Austin every available truck has been commandeered to evacuate residents of low lying districts as the Colorado river, fed by continued cloudbursts, approached a flood stage of 35 feet. Highways to the south are covered by great sheets of water.

At Marble Falls the electric light plant is flooded, and the city is without power or light. The raging waters of the Colorado have washed out the railroad of the Texas and New Orleans railroad between Marble Falls and Fairland, and have swept away a railroad bridge. Residents of Lampasas, in Central Texas are wading the streets knee deep in water, according to reports reaching here.

High water and washouts have paralyzed rail and highway traffic in the vicinity of Corsicana, virtually isolating the city.

Disruption of communications lines has prevented receipt of reports from rural sections and small communities, but authorities fear a heavy loss of life may be taken by the swollen, raging streams.

No attempt has been made to even estimate the huge property damage through the flood district.

LOYALISTS FLEE TOWARD MADRID FROM ALCAZAR

had been lifted, while on the north-western Madrid sector a wing of Gen. Emilio Mola's army "occupied a strategic point on La Canada commanding the whole of the capital."

Scurry Towards Madrid

"Strafed" unmercifully by rebel bombers meanwhile thousands of leftists militiamen scurried on foot and in motor truck over the San Martin bridge towards Madrid, to dig in for a final defense of the seemingly doomed capital.

Madrid hurled thousands of her best militia against Gen. Franco's trained men in a furious midnight battle on the walls of Toledo, but the estimated thousand survivors of the long purgatory in the Alcazar swept from their underground hiding for an assault on the Madrid rear to help turn the tide of battle.

Gen. Franco's southern wing fought its way on a "mission of honor" towards Toledo—not strategically important for the conquest of Madrid—mile by mile from Santa Oalla in less than a week.

After the battle outside the Toledo gate of Bizagra, when the loyalists withdrew into the city, a daring detachment of only 20 men under Capt. Muzzin penetrated into the city, and came back with word that little resistance could be expected.

Hammering its way through the streets, the Franco army then entered in full force, while the hungry rebels tumbled out of the Alcazar's ruins and staged their last battle with their tormentors.

Madridists Flee

An hour of street fighting ended when the town hall was taken in a bayonet charge, and the Madridists fled out the northern gate.

Toledo proved to have suffered little from the bombardment during the brief siege of the city, but the northern side of the Alcazar was in ruins.

During their long travails in the seven-centuries-old fortress, the survivors suffered artillery and aerial bombardments every day, and finally two weeks ago, two mines were blasted underneath the Alcazar, shattering its walls and sending tons of masonry thundering to the ground.

Loyalists rushed in, expecting to find the 1500 defenders all dead, but were met with a defiant burst of machine-gun fire from the subterranean recesses. Refusing offers to evacuate the 400 women and children in the Alcazar, the rebels staunchly held out until today's rescue.

Survivors said their chief trouble was the shortage of food. Each day they wrote a short list of the things they needed in great letters on the fort's flagstones. Rebel airplanes then flew over and dropped the needed supplies, and word of the army's progress.

A small radio set also spluttered away in the caverns of the fortress, bringing tidings from the rebels at Seville, Burgos and other points and a small typewritten sheet was issued at intervals giving "war bulletins."

LONDON IS RETURNING TO TOPEKA, CONFIDENT OF NOVEMBER VICTORY

Des Moines and Minneapolis speeches was very, very favorable among farmers. I gathered that from a good many and some of the most authoritative sources in the mid-west. The prospects of national victory are very good. My private information is also to the effect that we are going to carry the next president."

Homeward bound, London scheduled another series of "rear porch" talks in cities of Illinois, Iowa and Missouri. His itinerary called for stops in Savanna and Rock Island, Ill., Davenport, Muscatine, Ottumwa and Seymour, Iowa, and Chillicothe, Mo. He will reach Topeka at 11:30 tonight (C.S.T.).

Made Three Major Addresses

On his four London made three major addresses, which were broadcast to the nation. Two dealt with the farm problem; the other with social security.

At Des Moines he pledged a new farm relief program that would make the farmer a "lord on his own farm," cash payments on the domestic consumed portion of exportable surplus crops; federal credit for purchase of farms and to store feeds and grains; study of crop insurance and a program for introducing new crops on American farms.

At Minneapolis, he promised repeal of the social security act, a delay in federal unemployment insurance until state experiments can remove danger of federal error, and enactment of a new "workable, common sense" old age pension law, to care for citizens over 65 years old. He promised the new law would be administered on a "pay-as-you-go" basis through a "direct, visible and widely distributed" fund. He denounced the Roosevelt law as a "glaring example of bungling and waste" and as "unjust, unworkable, stupidly drafted and wastefully financed."

No public report of the early contributions, except for outstanding donations, has been made. The campaign organization tonight will likely hear the figure announced.

Gratified With Response

Chairman Duff expressed himself as gratified by the response to his appeal for workers and remarked particularly on the way in which the younger men of the various civic clubs have enlisted in support of the movement. In the business division, headed by L. B. Round, there are ten teams furnished by these clubs, two each from Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Wolves and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. These ten teams are captained by Russell McClelland, George Ritter, Walter Dietterle, Dr. T. J. Fletcher, Dan Treloar, L. J. Lewis, Sam Ross, Dr. W. V. Massaro, A. L. Bantz and F. M. Royston.

Flora; a food division under the direction of Ray Hall and V. O. Potter and a professional division, headed by Dr. Paul Wilson.

Excitement in London

London, Sept. 28.—Amid tumultuous excitement, foreign exchange dealings were resumed on the London market today for the first time since Friday, while gold shares soared on the stock mart and other issues followed on the metal's surge.

The American dollar rose against the pound, there being no immediate sign that the $2,000,000,000 American exchange equalization fund was operating, while the $5,000,000 purchase of sterling in New York Saturday had lost its effect.

The slumping pound opened at $4.96, compared to Saturday's New York closing of $4.97, and within a few minutes had slid to from 4.935 to $4.945.

Quotations on the three currencies whose official value is underling adjustment—the French franc, Swiss franc and Dutch guilder—were again barred.

Consider Action on Guilder

The Hague, Sept. 28.—Both chambers of the Dutch parliament today were summoned to an emergency session to consider devaluation of the guilder by, it is understood, from 10 to 20 per cent.

Premier Hendrikus Colijn announced the government is introducing a "managed currency" bill, which will establish a 300,000,000 guilder exchange equalization fund to keep Holland's money on an even keel in foreign markets.

Alec Samuels, who succeeds Mr. Bolsinger as president, was introduced and expressed the hope that the club governors would give him the same fine co-operation they had always given Mr. Bolsinger.

The closing speaker was Fred L. Rentz, who presented Mr. Bolsinger with a new radio as a token of the esteem in which the retiring president is held. Mr. Rentz told of the splendid work done by Mr. Bolsinger during his 17 years residence in New Castle. He wished him success in his new venture.

Mr. Bolsinger responded very briefly. Naturally he was pleased at the expression of appreciation and said so. He thanked the governors for their co-operation and said he hoped the club would show yearly improvement under the leadership of Alec Samuels.

Oppose Sliding Scale

Paris, Sept. 28.—Bitter opposition to the "sliding scale of wages" feature of the Blum government's deflation program developed in Senate circles today.

The "sliding scale" provides for increases in workers' wages to compensate for the decreased purchasing power of the franc. Various categories of workers are to be formed with wage increases varying to maintain a constant standard of living.

The Senate majority, through the radical Socialist party's help, was prepared to reject the "sliding scale" proposal if it is submitted, International News Service learned.

There was a possibility they might not get it since the radical Socialists in the Chamber of Deputies were attempting to have the bill amended to eliminate it altogether, or extend it to apply to all fixed-income bondholders.

Premier Leon Blum was expected to refuse this motion, on the contention it would wipe out all effects of devaluation. The communists insisted on the sliding scale for workers as the price of their co-operation.

This coup is expected to strengthen the president's campaign plea that his administration should be continued in office to carry on the increasingly complex international negotiations now in progress.

At Syracuse Tuesday Night.

The address at Syracuse tomorrow night will be the executive's first avowedly political address in the more than two months of touring north, west and south he has accomplished on flood control and drought inspection trips. Mr. Roosevelt has stated repeatedly he feels free, as a voter of New York, to take an active part in the political affairs of his state. It was understood he would take the gloves off and wage in before the state convention.

From Syracuse the president returns to Washington only to remain during the daylight hours of September 30. That night he entrains again for Thomas, W. Va., where he will leave his special on the morning of October 1 to motor through the national forest to Elkins, W. Va. At the latter point he will witness the coronation of the "queen" of the mountain state forest festival and make an address.

It's almost unbelievable the results that are attainable with our new improved method of fur glazing. It is so superior to our old process that we, ourselves, are really surprised how much difference it makes in furs. Requiring the use of a special product imported from the Orient, this process softens furs, renews their color, adds life, gives lustre, and is approved by the leading furriers of the country.

HOOVER-BACK WEDDING AT FIRST U. P. CHURCH

Miss Dorothy Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hoover, of Winter avenue, and Emery W. Back, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Back, of Summer avenue, were united in marriage Saturday evening in the parlors of the First United Presbyterian church before a large assembly of guests. At one of the most colorful and impressive weddings of the Autumnal season, the vows were exchanged at 7 o'clock with the Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor, officiating with the single ring service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in a white satin gown entraine, made on Princess lines, with a veil of tulle, cap shape, caught with a crown of tiny pearls and orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses with matching streamers of ribbons knotted with blossoms. Her sister, Elise Hoover, as maid of honor wore a water-green flowered satin gown made tunic effect with ankle length skirt and puff sleeves to the elbow, and high neckline. When it she wore elbow length lace gloves, a brimmed hat to match with tulle crown and satin band to harmonize. Her arm bouquet was of Talsman roses.

Bridesmaids were Katherine Hoover, who donned an ice blue flowered satin made identical like that of the maid of honor, with hat to match and the same accessories and carried yellow roses. Miss Gertrude Thompson, who shared these honors, chose a shell pink flowered satin, fashioned similar to the latter's attire, with hat of the same and elbow lace gloves. She carried an arm cluster of pink roses.

Robert Back served his brother as best man, and those ushering included Alfred Knopp, of Cleveland, O., a cousin of the bride and Charles Beckwith of this city.

Appropriate wedding music was provided before and during the ceremony, with A. A. Taylor, presiding at the organ. Selections chosen included "Liebestraume" by Liszt, "Candlelight Nuptials" by DuBoise, "At Dawning" by Cadman, and "Venitiam Love Song" by Noyes. He accompanied Mrs. Mildred Boyd, soprano, who sang beautifully "O Promise Me" by DeKoven and "I Love You Truly" by Carrie Jacobs Bond. The "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin was contributed for the procession and for the recessional. Mr. Taylor played "The Wedding March" by Mendelssohn adding further to the impressiveness of the occasion.

The church altar was beautifully decorated with ferns and palms outlining the entire chancel, mixed with flowers of the season.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Hoover, accompanied by her son Charles F. Hoover, was attired in a rust crepe dress of street length with shoulder bouquet of talsman roses and sweetpeas, while the groom's mother, Mrs. Back, chose a blue crepe ensemble. Her shoulder corsage was of pink roses.

Immediately following the exchange of vows, a congratulatory period was held in the church, and afterwards, a reception took place at the home of the bride's parents. Approximately a hundred were served a buffet lunch. The dining table was decorated with the traditional tiered wedding cake surmounted with a tiny bride and groom and bouquets of flowers were used in the rooms throughout.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Back departed on a few days wedding trip to Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, New York and other points of interest.

For traveling, she chose a black crepe tunic ensemble, trimmed in white. Upon their return, they will be "at home" to friends in their newly furnished apartment at 309 Winter avenue, after October 1.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of the New Castle High school, and she is also a member of the Nurses Training Class of 32, at Jameson Memorial Hospital, where she has been affiliated since that time. He is associated with the National Radiator Works.

SILVER WEDDING AT ROBT. SHEEHY HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sheehy were honored at their home, 912 Dewey avenue Saturday evening, when two of their daughters, Minta and Sara Sheehy, planned a party as a medium of observing their silver wedding anniversary. Other children of the couple who shared included Hazel, Robert, Roy and little Donna Sheehy.

Friends and relatives gathered, taking Mr. and Mrs. Sheehy by surprise, and showered them with gifts appropriate to the occasion. Informal diversions held sway during the leisure period, and throughout the procedure, a buffet lunch was served.

Those attending from out of town were Mrs. Mina Marshall of Cuyahoga Falls, O. Mr. and Mrs. James Hettenbaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Price of Youngstown, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Marshall of North Lima, O.

An Eye That Has Color

The turtle is the first of the vertebrates to have eyes with colored iris. All of the human race, of course, have colored iris—blue, brown, hazel, green. Its purpose is not merely to make the eye beautiful, however. The job of the iris is to control the amount of light which enters the eye through the pupil—the black spot in the center.

You will find that when you are in a bright light, only a small portion of your pupil is exposed, letting into your eye only a small portion of the light. This is one of nature's provisions to safeguard your eyes. You should help her keep your vision as perfect as she meant it to be by a periodic examination and correction of any visual defects.

TRAVEL BY DIRIGIBLE

WITH each succeeding crossing of the Atlantic by the Hindenburg it has become increasingly apparent that serious moves soon would be initiated toward the expansion of this service. The performances of the Hindenburg, and also of the Graf Zeppelin, have not in any instance fallen short of perfection. A thousand passengers now have been carried by the Hindenburg, together with freight and mail, and, although a variety of weather conditions has appeared to test the durability of the ship and the skill and resourcefulness of its commander and crew, all difficulties have been surmounted with apparent ease.

Notwithstanding the tragic background of dirigible development, involving the destruction of ships by the elements and a heavy loss of life, this mode of trans-Atlantic transportation now forces itself impressively to the forefront as a method whose effectiveness and safety have been demonstrated impressively. The two great German lighter-than-air vessels, which have been departing and arriving with the regularity of trains, have convinced a skeptical world of their practicability.

Commander Rosendahl, who is one of this country's foremost authorities on lighter-than-air transportation, is convinced after having twice crossed the Atlantic on the Hindenburg that the operations of this ship have passed the experimental stage and now may be regarded as an "efficiently operated commercial passenger business." Reported plans of American and Dutch transportation interests to construct a fleet of new airships for regular ocean-spanning passenger service give substance to this conviction.

JOHNNY AND HIS GUN

Considerable furore doubtless will be the result of a recent announcement by the American Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations that they intend to abolish toy firearms and substitute toy plows and airplanes.

Already one prominent jurist has exploded in wrath at such a proposal. "Bunk!" shouts Joseph B. Lindsley, of Spokane, adding that boys need guns as much as they do dogs.

One infers, of course, that the Parent-Teacher pronouncement is really a slap at warlike gestures and gangsterism. But need a gun necessarily connote war or crime? Not in the opinion of Judge Lindsley. However, if the Parent-Teacher groups succeed in injecting a somewhat more constructive note into toy manufacture, their efforts will be well worth while. And it's possible that Johnny will be satisfied with the new idea. That is, if he remains Johnny, and doesn't turn into little Rollo.

MAGNIFICENT RESEARCHER

H. G. Wells is seventy, and what a life he has lived in these three score and ten years! Few literary careers, at least in modern times, can compare with that of this strange mixture of classicist and scientist, whose range of thinking and of writing extends back to the earliest ages of man and forward to times which can be contemplated only by the most imaginative of minds.

From a vast wealth of knowledge, superb gifts of delineating character, the genius of literary invention, and with tireless energy, Mr. Wells writes of all times and all peoples, filling shelves with history and with prophecy, with romance and with mystery, and with little masterpieces of inspiration and of courage, such as "Mr. Britling Sees It Through," a source of spiritual sustenance to his stricken countrymen during the dark days of the war.

Hardy and Conrad, Galsworthy and Bennett, Moore and Kipling and Chesterton are gone. Wells, Shaw and Belloc remain in a diminishing field of distinguished figures in English literature.

WOODEN FOOD

The revelation that Professor Friedrich Bergius, noted Heidelberg chemist, has perfected a process for converting wood-waste—of which sawdust is the best example—into synthetic food will not whet the appetite of gourmets but it does arouse some thoughts on its significance and possibilities. Processors, aided by chemists and cooks, have found use for almost every ounce that goes into the stockyards on four feet, but in the vegetable line there has been no necessity to convert to food the coarsest plant stocks.

Trees are great food producers and one need not be a chemist to understand that, since their fruits and seeds have been nutritive food since the world began, a smart chemist can devise a process for converting these largest of plants themselves into food of a sort. The practical value of the process is small, for it is hardly conceivable that in any region where a sawdust converting plant could be operated there would not be plant life of more natural food value than processed sawdust.

A vivid imagination can paint a country besieged by armies and ships, so blockaded that it would have to convert its forests into substitutes for mashed potatoes, hominy, baked beans and boiled cabbage, but a more sensible inventor of drastic conditions would expect an end to the siege before the population was reduced to elm au gratin, spruce fritters, and pine ice cream cones. The extreme German view of self-sufficiency will have little practical support from the alert sawdust researcher of the Nobel prize winner who makes gasoline from coal. Even the Nazis would quit before they were forced to a diet based on processing the Black Forest into breakfast food.

Looking Across The Water.
Europe's Worst Spot, Spain.
Three In Every Family.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

ON BOARD THE STEAMSHIP NORMANDIE, Sept. 28—On this ship 1,617 men, women and children, are returning to America, or going there for the first time, and all will be glad to stay, assuming that there are no idiots among them.

To look back across 2,000 miles of water, and westward 1,000 miles to America, still the country where opportunity, peace and freedom from war's hellish anxiety are possible, makes you feel like one fleeing from Pompeii, with the cinders still coming down, sorry for those left behind, but glad to be beyond the volcano's reach.

FOR HIS "PARADISE LOST" Milton wrote 300 years ago three lines that he might write again to describe modern Europe:

In Dim eclipse, disastrous twilight sheds
On half the nations, and with fear of change
Perplexes monarchs.

European conditions, today, perplex, not only monarchs, of whom few are left, they perplex especially the dictators, under whose protection various nations have fallen and other nations still calling themselves "democracies" as they slide toward dictatorship or chaos.

NAPOLEON SAID, according to Elie Faure, that civil war alone produces real courage. Meanwhile, civil war in Spain, allowing 70 per cent for the imagination of alleged eye witnesses, is producing the most cowardly, shameful wholesale murder.

Sailors on a warship mutinied, abandoned the so-called "legitimate Red Madrid government" to join the "Fascist insurgent movement" and bombarded a "Red" city. The mutinous sailors were beyond the reach of Madrid, not beyond the reach of radio, and news came to them through the ether that in each of their families three persons would be executed. That was done, although the unfortunes had committed no offense. Had not even rebelled against Madrid.

PAINTFULLY USEFUL, this reminds us of our closeness to utter barbarism. Only a few generations back it was the established well approved custom not only in Spain, but everywhere, to kill with the condemned man as many of his family as could be seized, confiscating their property. It became a regular "business" to condemn and execute as an excuse for confiscation. Napoleon also said "everything is moral in war."

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

HOW SHOULD CHILDREN BE "GUARDED"?

I stood on a landing and watched a small girl head a small motorboat out through the waves of a mountain lake.

She was all alone, driving that boat, and she wasn't entirely safe. . . . So much might happen to her. Another boat might swamp it. The motor might explode. In some inexplicable way she might lose her balance, fall from the boat, be stunned and drown. . . . I could think of many, many things that might happen to her. And if any of them did happen to her I knew that for all the rest of my life I might be blaming myself for having allowed her on that stormy day to go back up the lake in that motorboat.

But I waved to her and she waved back and set forth on her adventure. . . . And nothing happened.

And what else can a parent do? How far, anyway, must his care and affection extend? It is the business of parents to guard their children, yes, but what does "guarding" mean? . . . You would not risk a child's life foolishly, but you must also give a child independence, free it from foolish fears. You cannot be teaching cowardice, timidity, a shrinking aversion from adventure, this life. . . . You love a child and your heart would break if you lost that little girl, that little boy. You would keep him close to you forever, but you must teach him, too, to be strong enough to stand alone and to go away from you when he is old enough to walk through life by himself. He must not cling to mother's apron strings, he must not clutch his father's hand.

So, though your heart beats fast, you send even a little girl out alone in a motorboat, not recklessly, not madly, but because you know it is the right thing to do. . . . The windy lake and the little boat are symbols of what is to be. . . . The lake is life, the winds are the problems and vicissitudes that will come to her, and child taking her boat over the lake and through the channel and mooring it safely at the landing is that same child grown older making her way through the years.

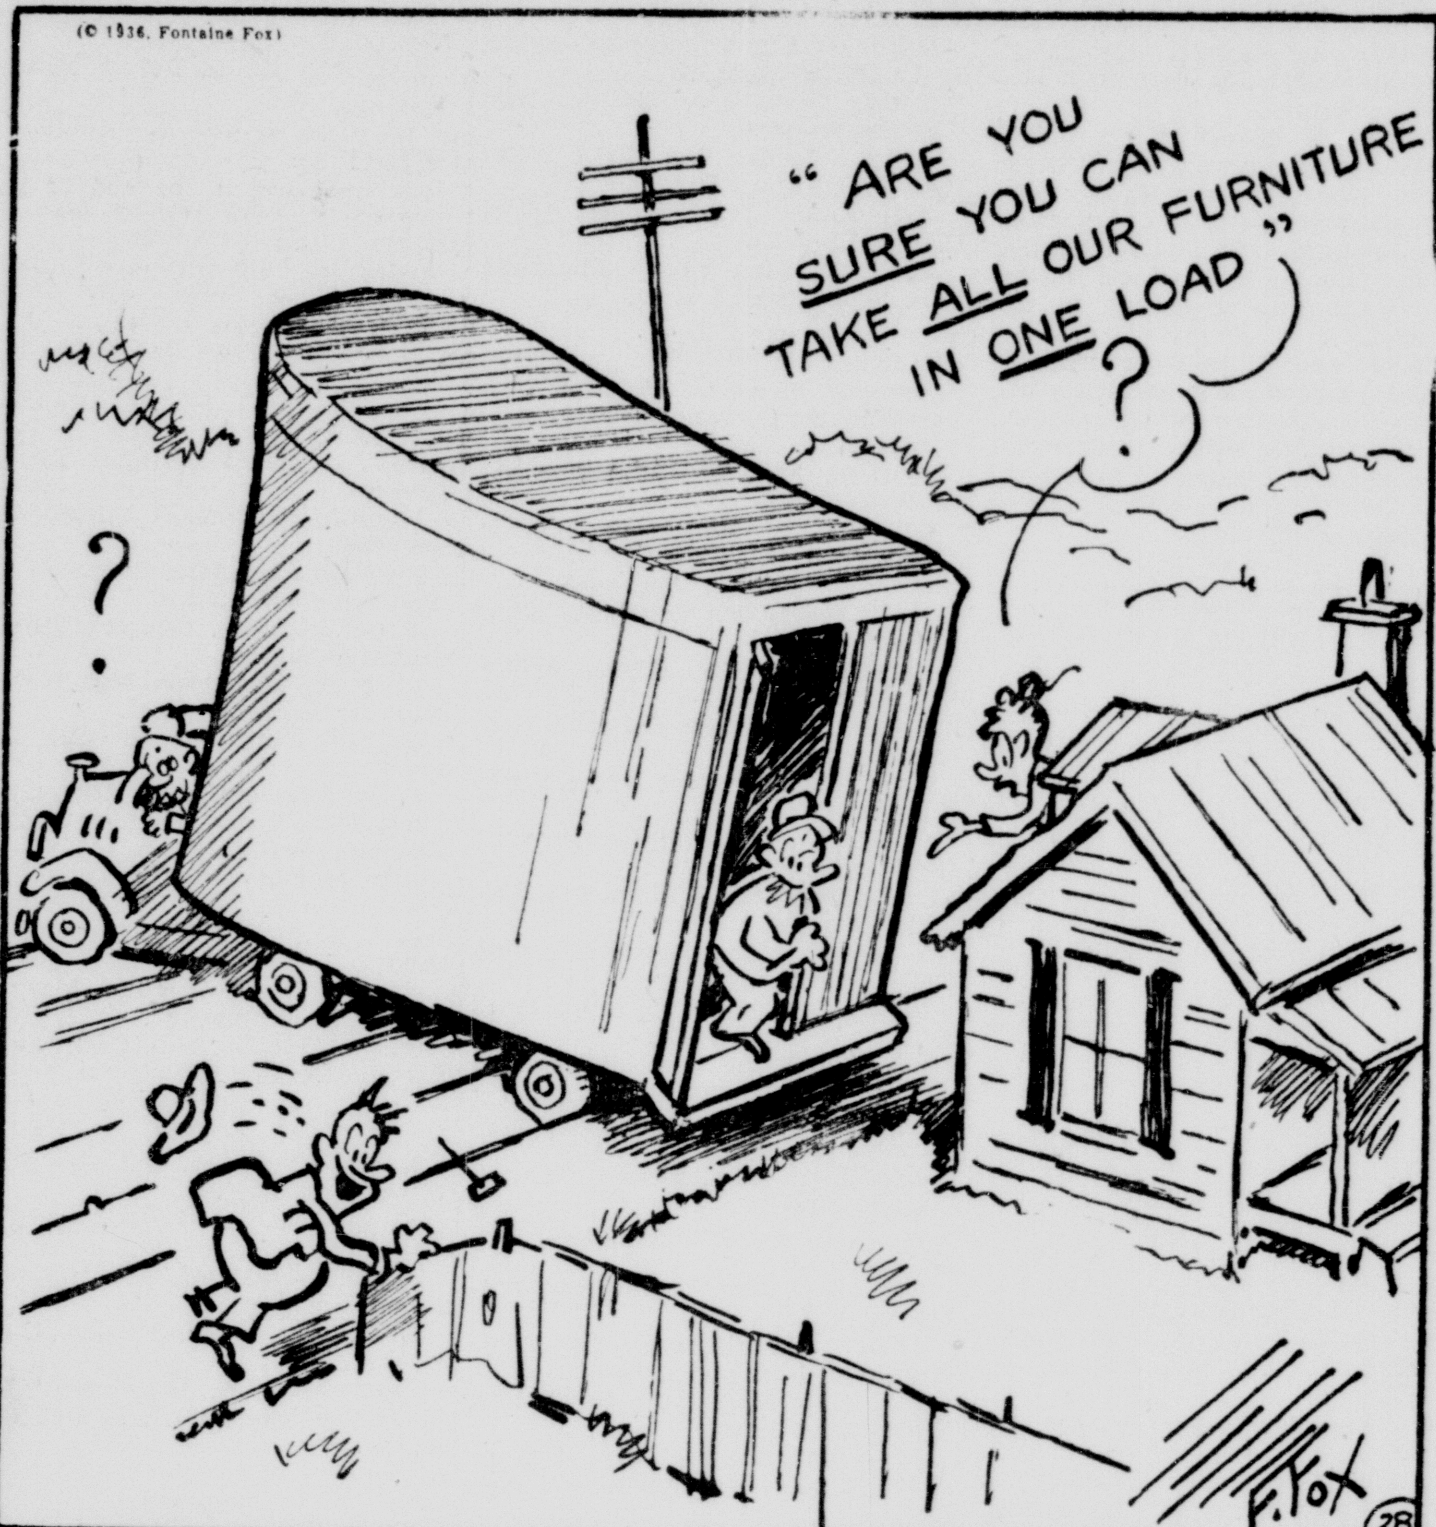

A parent, too, must learn that important distinction between guarding and guiding.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARTEL

RECENTLY, I WAS TALKING with a woman who entertains profusely. I asked her what she considers the perfect guest, the kind of person she invites again and again to her numerous parties.

Here is her answer: "When I compile my list of guests, my first thought is I got down a name: Is she a 'good mixer,' the kind of girl who likes every one and who, in turn, is tremendously liked by every one?"

"Such a guest is easy to entertain. She is never a drag. She helps make a party a success by her good humor, vivacity, magnetism and well-deserved popularity."

"The shrinking violet is a dead weight around her hostess' neck, for she is constantly alone, requiring her hostess to rescue her from her wall flower proclivities."

"The choosy guest holds herself aloof from the multitude and is condescending, though tolerant to those of whom she does not wholly accept."

"But the 'good mixer' is ever pleasant to all and stimulates gaiety in others, adding tremendously to her vast appeal."

So, if you would receive many invitations to this year's parties, remove all chips from your shoulder, develop a good sense of camaraderie and never become known as a "drag."

The World At A Glance

Jefferson Won Bitter Fight.
Was Unpopular As Vice President.
Napoleon Finally Saves Day.

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

THE FOURTH AMERICAN presidential campaign really began the moment Samuel Adams took office following his election, in 1796. For the first and last time in American history the vice president loomed larger than the president. Even so, he had no part in the affairs of the administration. Thomas Jefferson was vice president, and for nearly 10 years now the issue had been Hamiltonism vs. Jeffersonism.

Strange to say, Jefferson seemed to be declining in power for the first three years of Adams' term. The Federalists even made gains in congress in mid-term.

There was a reason. Jefferson had favored a French republic. The revolution had gone on to excesses. "Jacobinism" now was hurled at Jefferson and his followers with greater vehemence than ever. New England preachers called him an atheist, a destroyer of the home.

And France, and to prevent the flame of hatred still higher, had begun to seize American ships bound to England, with whom she was at war. The Federalists, who had defended England's right to such seizures previously, now demanded war on France. And they actually did wage a war—without declaration and to little purpose, a now forgotten "little" war on the high seas.

The demand for war had been intensified when certain French officials had insulted an American commission sent over by President Adams, and had demanded bribes. Emotionalism, fanned by the Federalists, swept the nation.

NAPOLEON SAVES DAY

It was, indeed, a strange occurrence that saved the day for Jefferson and provided for the downfall of Adams.

Napoleon Bonaparte overthrew the Directory in Paris, and became First Consul. An agreement was reached between France and the United States which satisfied neither the Federalists (who thought it a surrender) nor the Jeffersonites (who believed it a makeshift). The tide began turning back to Jefferson.

Furthermore, the Federalists, determined to gain a firmer hold on the government, and to prevent a greater degree of democracy, forced two drastic measures through congress—the Alien and Sedition acts, on top of a Naturalization act requiring long residence.

Several Jeffersonian editors soon found themselves in jail.

Even persons who made remarks against the policies of President Adams were arrested and sentenced by federal judges.

John Marshall, a hide-bound Federalist, later to become chief justice of the U. S. supreme court, urged the Federalists to be cautious.

Even Alexander Hamilton asserted: "Let us not establish a tyranny. Energy is a very different thing from violence."

B. the damage had been done. The people rose up against the laws. They held the Federalists responsible.

Jefferson urged defiance. Kentucky passed resolutions—drawn up by Jefferson—declaring the acts null and void. James Madison introduced similar resolutions in Virginia.

Jefferson could not help but lead his followers—who termed them-

The World Mud Puddles

AND THE

PRETTY BUT MISLEADING

County Manager Roy S. Braden of Arlington County, Virginia, a community of 35,000 believes in translating the cost of government into terms the taxpayer can understand. In his proposed budget for 1936-1937, according to the City Manager's News Letter, is this statement of per capita annual costs:

For the county board, manager, auditor and purchasing department, $0.79, or the price of five gallons of gasoline; for tax assessing and collecting, $0.97, which is the cost of two pounds of Virginia ham; for the courts, $0.42, or a pound of steak; for police, $1.41, or a four-pound beef roast; for fire protection, $1, or a pair of silk stockings; for welfare, $0.42, or one tube of shaving cream; for health service, $0.46, or a quart of ice cream; for engineering service, $0.60, or a Coca Cola a month; for sewer operation, $1.15, or the price of a straw hat; for garbage and refuse collection, $0.88, or a half dozen roses; for upkeep of buildings and grounds, $0.42, or three quarts of milk; for street lighting, $0.80, or an inexpensive necktie; for roads and streets, $4.57, or less than one shoe shine a week; for debt service, $2.07, or two Sunday dinners "out"; for schools, $12.56, or one movie a week.

Moreover, Arlington County citizens are not taxed directly for all these services. The taxes on real and personal property, amounting to $768,150, represents an annual per capita payment of $21.95, or $1.83 a month, or "quite a lot less than the cost of one loaf of bread per day," says Mr. Braden.

This $21.95 per capita is the most misleading of the many statements made by government officials. Of the 35,000 population of Arlington County, Virginia, probably 3500 pay most of the tax bill and of the 3500 probably 350 pay one-half of it. Very likely one-half of the population pay no taxes whatsoever.

He was not sent to announce the victory, as is often stated, but to implore for Gen. Miltiades' Athenian army aid promised by Sparta in repulsing Persian invaders. The Spartans waited a week before starting, on the ground that an old military law forbade them to set out on a military expedition before the full moon.

In the meanwhile, Miltiades' little army of 10,000 men, and defeated the Persian army of 110,000 at Marathon, in Attica, and decided that Europe should be governed by a European, not an Asiatic civilization.

SHEEP FIELD DAY

Lawrence county sheep men have been invited by the Sheep and Wool Growers' Association of Mercer county to attend the Annual Sheep Field Day to be held at Mercer Fair Grounds Saturday, October 3.

An educational program consisting of talks and demonstrations on flock management practices has been arranged. This program will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and will be completed early in the afternoon.

In addition to this program there will be a number of pure bred rams available for purchase or exchange.

PASTURE IMPROVEMENT SHOULD START IN FALL

With the coming of fall rains pastures are reviving and beginning to look normal. Fertilized and limed pastures turned green two weeks or more before the untreated pastures.

There is increased interest in pasture improvement this year and farmers are realizing the value of beginning treatments in the fall rather than in the spring. Lime and fertilizer applied this fall will begin to show results next year while spring applications ordinarily will not produce improvement until the following year. Winter snows and the freezing and thawing of spring weather help to work the materials deeper into the soil.

Another point in favor of fall application is that the ground is solid now and machinery can be taken over the land without difficulty, while in the spring it usually is rather late before machinery can be used without cutting up the ground. Also, in the spring there is the usual rush of work in which pasture fertilization may be overlooked.

About one or one and one-half tons of lime to the acre should be applied first. This should be followed with about 400 pounds of super-phosphate an acre any time before snow flies.

If pasture is thin and run-down an application of manure this fall is advisable. Although manure, as a rule, will cause the livestock to refuse the grass for a period of time, if the application is made in the fall the undesirable effect will be gone by the time the stock is turned out in the spring.

WHEAT HAS HIGH VALUE IN THE SWINE RATION

Ground or crushed wheat is an excellent feed for swine.

Results of feeding trials at several agricultural experiment stations show that hard spring wheat is 5 to 10 per cent higher than corn in feeding value for fattening hogs. On the basis of these trials the comparative values of corn and wheat for swine can be expressed in dollars and cents approximately as follows:

When corn sells at $1.25 per bushel wheat is worth for swine feeding $1.45 a bushel; corn $1.20, wheat $1.40; corn $1.15, wheat $1.34; corn $1.10, wheat $1.28; corn $1.05, wheat $1.22; corn $1.00, wheat $1.17; corn 95 cents, wheat $1.12; corn 90 cents, wheat $1.07; corn 85 cents, wheat 99 cents; corn 80 cents, wheat 94 cents; and corn 70 cents, wheat 88 cents a bushel.

From the feeding trials another set of figures has been worked out which shows that when hogs sell for $12.00 a hundred pounds, wheat is worth $1.60 a bushel as feed; hogs $11, wheat $1.45; hogs $10, wheat $1.30; hogs $9, wheat $1.16; hogs $8, wheat $1.02; and hogs $7, wheat 87 cents.

Wheat should be coarsely ground or rolled for swine. In this condition it may be self-fed. If too finely ground the wheat is not suitable for dry feeding because it becomes pasty in the hog's mouth. Ground wheat, coarse or fine, may be fed in slop. Soaking is not a substitute for grinding. The grinding increases the feeding value nearly 20 per cent.

Although wheat is richer than corn in protein, a protein supplement, such as tankage or fishmeal, should always be fed with wheat to produce the most rapid and economical gains.

Wheat may be fed as the only grain in the swine ration or it may be combined with other home-grown grains in varying amounts to fit local conditions.

STORE FOR WINTER ALL SURPLUS GARDEN CROPS

Home gardens have acquired a new lease on life as a result of recent rains.

Spring and early summer gardens were poor and late in maturing early crops. However, timely rains during August have improved the late summer and fall crops so that some have recovered and the late plantings also will be good.

Since the supply of vegetables is low and prices, which now are 80 per cent above normal, are expected to go higher after frosts, it is highly desirable for all those having home gardens to store any surplus vegetables for winter use.

Commercially canned vegetables, especially peas and beans, also are below normal in supply this year.

Directions for storing vegetables, giving temperature, moisture, and ventilation requirements, can be obtained from the County Agricultural Extension Office, 206 Post Office Bldg., New Castle.

FILTERED CIDER MAY BE MADE AT LOW COST

Thanks to recent experimental work a method has been developed whereby the ordinary freshly prepared cider may be treated to give a very clear and immensely superior product for the market.

The equipment necessary may be made at home for a cost probably not to exceed $2 or $3.

The freshly pressed juice is put into a wooden barrel and a few ounces of a special enzyme is thoroughly mixed with it. After standing 15 to 20 hours, preferably in cold storage, the added material will have caused the cider to clear, and the constituents responsible for cloudiness will have very largely settled to the bottom.

The cider is next filtered to remove thoroughly these cloudy materials. A filter aid, such as diatomaceous or infusorial earth, is thoroughly mixed in at the rate of about one pound for each 30 gallons of cider. The clarification and filtration procedure is completely described in Leaflet 46, recently by State College and available at the Extension Office in New Castle.

A bushel of apples may be made into filtered cider by this method at a cost of about 28 cents, or about 8 cents a gallon.

An even clearer and more attractive product may be prepared by running this cider through a germ-proofing filter, subjecting it to carbonation, and sealing it in sterile containers. Cider so treated will keep without fermentation. However, this process involves the use of relatively expensive equipment.

LET'S REMODEL OUR OUT-MODED CUPBOARDS

Many Pennsylvania women have inherited old kitchen cupboards which are too far apart and too deep. These can be easily remodeled and made more compact and convenient, says Miss Mary Vogle, home economics worker in Lawrence county.

Most homes need more organized cupboard space. Space above the dishes is wasted on the shelves of these cupboards unless the dishes are piled high. Then time and energy is lost in up-lifting and handling them. When shelves are so far apart only a few are within easy reach.

What possessor of one of these cupboards has not become irritated in looking for smaller articles piled behind the larger ones on a wide shelf, sometimes even breaking a choice dish in the hunt? Narrow shelves placed at the back of the cupboard can make these same cupboards more convenient. Then every dish can be placed so that it can be seen at a glance and easily reached with one direct motion.

In remodeling these cupboards, first plan the storage space according to the size of the dishes to be stored. Remove all the dishes from the cupboard and sort them according to size and frequency of use. Place the largest dishes, which are used daily, on the bottom shelf. Then plan one or two narrow shelves just wide enough to hold small dishes, such as sauce dishes, cups, and glasses.

Add at least one inch to the height and width of the dishes for ease in handling when planning shelves for them. Brackets at the width of the shelf can be placed at either end of the cupboard and the shelves nailed or screwed to them. Special metal strips can be bought at a hardware store for a few cents a foot and used as the end of the cupboard to make the shelves adjustable. Narrow shelves can be extended around the end of the cupboard to give more space.

Large flat dishes including platters, trays, and serving dishes can be stored in upright partitions made at one end of one of the higher shelves. These partitions of thin boards or galvanized iron, can be made to slide into grooves formed by nailing two narrow strips of wood far enough apart to allow them to slide easily.

Pie tins, covers, and other flat pans for cooking also can be placed in narrow partitions to avoid the usual stooping to lower shelves. Any member of the family who is handy with hammer and saw can make those simple changes at little or no expense. Remodeled cupboards will give more storage space and will save time, energy and disposition.

GET COOL...STAY COOL...WITH TEA!

When it's in the sweltering 90's, and you're ready to drop from the heat and humidity, do what they do in the tropics. Turn to tea.

Allow 2 teaspoons of tea to each person. Infuse in tea pot as for hot tea. Place ice cubes in glass, pour on hot tea, adding sugar to taste. Flavor and garnish with lemon or mint, or both.

In hot weather keep a pitcher of iced tea in the ice box. Make it the first thing in the morning and have it ready all day.

Cooling, vitalizing Tea comes from INDIA, CEYLON, and JAVA-SUMATRA. Buy a good brand of Orange Pekoe, and look for any of these names on this map on package or in advertising.

selves Republicans. ("Democrats" seemed too Jacobin.)

"I have sworn," Jefferson wrote a friend in 1800, "eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man."

And that indomitable quest for truth and justice was to be his best campaign asset. Here was a leader the common man could follow.

ADAMS DEFIES HAMILTON

Adams cut loose from his chief political support by breaking with Alexander Hamilton. Adams, unfortunately, had retained the second Washington cabinet. Several members had been unfaithful to him, reporting to Hamilton for orders and confusing the president's policy.

Too late, Adams learned of the trickery and dismissed the disloyal cabinet members. He branded the men as belonging to "a British faction"—and Hamilton was angered beyond cohabitation.

Adams had provided a schism in his own party. The people sided with him in his quarrel. But the voters were veering rapidly to Thomas Jefferson.

Hamilton, foreseeing that, proposed to Governor John Jay of New York, a gerrymander that would provide a majority of the electors in that state for the Federalist candidate to prevent "an atheist in religion and a fanatic in politics from getting possession of the helm of state." Governor Jay refused, although he was of an opposite political faith to Jefferson's.

A CONSPIRACY

In the 1800 election Jefferson and Burr defeated Adams and Pinckney. The electoral votes, however, showed a tie for Jefferson and Burr. The people understood that Burr was to be vice president, of course—but the Federalists began a plot. That accidental tie caused the selection of the president to be turned over to the house of representatives, which the Federalists controlled.

The Federalists leaned toward Burr, because he was no "radical." They believed they might be able to control him.

But Hamilton mistrusted Burr more than he hated Jefferson. He had congress force Jefferson to give assurance that he would preserve the fiscal system set up by Hamilton, etc.—which was foolish, for if Hamilton had not assented to Jefferson, there probably would have been a revolution. The Federalists could not do otherwise than accede to the election of Jefferson; he was by far the popular choice. They had held up his selection until within a month of inauguration time.

The "radical" stepped into power, Adams went home in a huff, New Englanders believed the end of the world had come, and one of the truly great statesmen of all times began to administer the affairs of the nation—cautiously, at first, but with stern determination, toward a broader democracy.

Within a few years the Federalist party, once so powerful, had entirely passed from view.

Strikers Vote To Return To Work

Accept Company's Terms At Coraopolis—Resume Work On Wednesday

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—Six weeks of strife, during which two plants of the Standard Steel Spring company at Coraopolis were closed down by a walkout of more than 700 workers demanding wage increases and union recognition, appeared ended today following a conference between strikers and representatives of the management.

The meeting saw approximately 500 of the strikers vote unanimously to accept the company's terms and return to work. Robert C. Enos, appointed "liquidator" for the company when it was announced Standard Steel Springs would shut down permanently its plants in this district and move elsewhere, announced immediately that No. 1 plant at Coraopolis would resume operations Wednesday, and No. 2 plant, in nearby Moon township, would reopen as soon as possible.

Threatened with the loss of a $1,000,000-a-year payroll, Burgess C. P. McLaughlin and other members of the Coraopolis Board of Trade, sponsored the conciliation meeting. They expressed elation with results obtained.

Dr. H. M. Shuman Will Give Opening Conference Message

HUGE FOREST FIRE THREATENS TOWNS ON OREGON COAST

established under the direction of Brigadier General Thomas E. Rilea, who rushed to the stricken area from Marshfield.

A National Guard unit was standing by ready to move into the area on a moment's notice.

Theater Dozen Towns

After devastating Bandon, the fires, whipped by a 50 mile gale which was accompanied by extremely low humidity, converged on a dozen other towns.

Marshfield, with a population of 7,000 and North Bend, with a population of 5,000, were considered out of danger late last night, according to a telephone message from Gen. Rilea to Gov. Charles D. Martin.

Suburban buildings in both towns, the largest in southwestern Oregon where the fires are raging, were soaked with water.

The raging inferno has hemmed in Myrtle Point, Porth Orford, Langlois, Carpenterville, Brookings, Gold Beach, Riverton, Depot Bay, Prosper and Coquille.

It was believed Coquille was out of danger today unless the wind shifts.

Riverton is a former coal mining town and is dotted with open abandoned shafts which would feed the flames, sweeping to the water's edge.

Report Town In Flames

Myrtle Point, 30 miles inland from Coquille on the Coquille-Roseburg highway, was reported in flames. One-third of the town was reported destroyed. Two thousand residents of the town have evacuated their homes, according to a report received here.

An army of 3,000 men, including all state and federal relief agencies in the stricken area, was augmented today by fire fighters rushed from northern Oregon cities.

Portland and Salem, the state capital, rushed aid to the stricken zone.

Governor Martin, after issuing a proclamation closing all forests west of the Cascades to hunters and loggers, ordered every able-bodied man to join the fire-fighting crews.

The governor telegraphed President Roosevelt requesting $3,000,000 for immediate rehabilitation of the southern Oregon coast.

Eight bodies in the morgue at Marshfield, 38 miles north of Bandon, where they were recovered, were tentatively identified today.

The death list: Mrs. George Williams, Jack Bailey, Mrs. Ida Hill, John Reider, Daniel Koontz, 70, Mrs. Charles McCulloch, 65, Mrs. George Williams, George Williams.

Senate Campaign Funds Committee May Launch Probe

Alleged Coercion In Pennsylvania May Be Aired By Committee

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Charges of flagrant abuses of power and violations of the federal corrupt practices act in the heat of the present national campaign were to be laid before the Senate Campaign Funds committee here today.

Called into session by Senator Loneragan (D) of Connecticut, chairman, the committee of three Democrats and two Republicans was expected to reach important decisions before tonight.
Evidence of alleged use of the W. P. A. in Pennsylvania in behalf of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket was to be presented to the full committee. A demand by Senator Davis (R) of Pennsylvania for a complete expose of use of federal relief funds in the campaign confronted the committee.

Allege Coercion
The committee, it was learned, also has affidavits produced in court proceedings in Philadelphia which, Republicans asserted, show that efforts are being made to coerce persons on relief into voting for the Democratic ticket.
A counter-demand for open public hearings on alleged coercion of voters by big industrialists in Pennsylvania in behalf of the Landon-Knox tickets was before the committee.

to be canvassed. Demands by Senator Vandenberg (R) of Michigan, and Louis B. Ward, unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for the senate in Michigan, for investigation of "flagrant violations" of the franking privilege by officials of the government, were to be considered.

Charges By Vandenberg
Vandenberg charged that campaign literature was sent free through the mails in huge quantities before the recent primary election. The committee may also decide whether further action shall be taken in its controversy with Wilber M. Brucker, victorious in the Republican senatorial primary in Michigan. Charges were made that several weeks ago Brucker failed to supply certain information concerning his expenses but he is said to have given the committee additional information since then.

Committee investigators still are engaged in checking the expenditures in the Maine election, in which the Republicans scored a victory. The committee may decide whether a formal, public inquiry into expenditures in Maine shall be made.

West Pittsburg Hall Dedication

Armondo Diaz Hall Dedication Saturday Attracts Large Crowd

TONY ISABELLA IS CHAIRMAN

West Pittsburg's newly constructed Armondo Diaz hall was dedicated on Saturday afternoon with impressive exercises. Several hundred persons were in attendance at the affair, which was a marked success from every standpoint.

The program opened with a colorful parade. The customary manner of christening a new ship was employed in dedicating the beautiful West Pittsburg institution. Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo, well known New Castle residents, christened the hall. James Vassili introduced General Chairman Tony Isabella, who presented the speakers in a most capable manner. President Tony Nerti of the Armondo Diaz, the first speaker, welcomed the large crowd. President Giovanni Casacchia of the Casa Savoia society complimented the organization for the fine building and extended best wishes.

Tomasso DeVivo, president of the Columbus society, Mahoningtown, and Pasquale DiLuca, who is affiliated with the same organization, delivered appropriate addresses as did Angelo Fiala, a representative of the Rinascenta lodge No. 19 and Unione Calabro-Americana Poeta Franco Berardelli, and Dominick Pare of St. Lucy's society, Hillsville. Attorney Frank O. Moretti, the main speaker, followed with a most interesting speech in which he congratulated the club. He explained that cooperation was essential in the success of any enterprise. Raymond Peluso and Dominick Ciccarelli, secretary of Umberto Primo society, also spoke.

During the course of the affair the West Pittsburg club was presented with a bouquet of flowers by Columbus society hall of Mahoningtown. The club was the recipient of several valuable gifts, one by Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo. Bingo, a band concert by the Red Coat band, under the direction of B. J. Blom, and dancing were the popular pastimes. A colorful fireworks display climaxed the program. The Armondo Diaz hall is a new one-story structure which was completed recently, located on West Pittsburg's main street. The entire hall was artistically arranged for the occasion.

The affair was a success due to the efforts of the West Pittsburg committee: Tony Isabella, chairman; James Vassili, Thomas Crangey, Nick Crangey, George Isabella, Pat Carvella, Joseph Camorot, Tony Germani, Louis Pape, Joseph Sparo, Bruno Attisano and Umberto Ciano.

KNOX AND ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK IN PITTSBURGH

Both To Appear On Thursday

State Is Prize Sought By Both Parties In November Ballotting

AL SMITH ALSO ON AIR ON THURSDAY

By SYDNEY H. EIGES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28.—Emphasizing Pennsylvania's strategic position in the coming November presidential election, Republican and Democratic leaders today wheeled their heavy oratorical artillery into place for more than a month of continuous verbal bombardment calculated to capture the state's prize of 36 electoral votes.

Training their guns on Western Pennsylvania, leaders of both parties have arranged a full evening of campaign oratory for next Thursday night with President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic candidate for re-election, and Col. Frank Knox, the G. O. P. vice-presidential candidate, as the headliners. Both were scheduled to speak within a short time of each other at locations less than a half mile distant in Pittsburgh's civic center in the college section of the city. Special trains will bring unestimated thousands into the city and give Pittsburgh traffic cops their biggest headache in years.

Colonel Knox will speak first, going on the air at 8:15 and continuing for half an hour. Fifteen minutes after he concludes, at 9:00 o'clock, the president will speak and there will be barely enough time for radio station announcements after he finishes until former Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York begins another blast at the Roosevelt administration. A star-studded speaking program is being lined up by the Republicans to hold their followers in Duquesne Garden after Knox finishes until Al Smith begins. The president will be preceded by a host of Democratic speakers under the sky at Forbes field, including U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey, Gov. George H. Earle and David L. Lawrence, state Democratic chairman.

Start Trial For Teacher's Death

Fatal Accident On Fallston Hill Last April Cause Of Trial In Beaver

(International News Service) BEAVER, Pa., Sept. 28.—The trial of the Motor Express, Inc., of Youngstown, O., charged with involuntary manslaughter in the death of Miss Margaret McCowin, 28, a teaching teacher, on the dangerous Fallston Hill drive here last April, was to open here today.

Miss McCowin was killed when a nine-ton steel casting fell from the truck's trailer, crushing her in her car. District Attorney Robert E. McCrory said he would attempt to prove the casting was insecurely and carelessly anchored on the trailer. It will be the first time a corporation has been tried for such an offense in Beaver county. Judge Henry H. Wilson will hear the case.

Expect Huge Vote In Mercer County

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Sept. 28.—Mercer county commissioners do not intend to let the November 3 election situation get out of hand.

This week they will ascertain from Harrisburg the necessary facts that will determine whether they can use their voting machines or whether the size of the ballot will make their use impossible. The situation is being watched carefully here by the officials who will have their arrangements made in plenty of time to handle what is expected to be the largest vote ever cast in Mercer county. From indications a 90 per cent vote would not be impossible. Based on the county registration this would mean the record crowd of 36,000 voters at the polls.

Sunday Arrests Made By Police

Numerous Places Visited Where Liquor Laws Allegedly Were Violated

FORFEITS PLACED BY MOST PRISONERS

Chief of Police Ralph Criswell's "flying squadron" visited Moravia street and Howard alley area Sunday and places where it was suspected intoxicants were being sold or where disorderly houses were in operation.

As a result of the visits by Detectives Showalter, J. Young, Moore and Sergeant Sines quite a number of arrests were made and the treasury was enriched by several hundred dollars by forfeits placed by those arrested.

John Minor, 1205 Moravia street, was arrested on a charge of being a disorderly house proprietor at 11:25 a. m. One visitor was in the house. Minor and the visitor did not place forfeits, the former on a charge of being the proprietor of a disorderly house and the latter a visitor. They are in jail.

Home of Hazel Walker, 1003½ Moravia street, was also visited by officers. One inmate was found. The Walker woman placed a forfeit of $50 and an inmate $25. Two visitors placed forfeits of $5 each.

The squadron last night visited the home of Nick and Louise Skarbeck, 1312 Howard alley. They were charged with being the proprietor and proprietress of a disorderly house. He obtained his freedom by placing a $100 forfeit. Twenty visitors each placed forfeits of $5. Some visitors escaped by jumping from first and second story windows, police say. One man, name unknown, was hurt, it was reported, when he jumped from a window and landed on a fence.

Ted Brown, 929 Moravia street, was charged with being the proprietor of a disorderly house. Two were charged with being inmates. Brown and one inmate placed forfeits of $50 and the other inmate $25. Four visitors also placed forfeits, one putting up $10 and the other three $5 each. There were white and colored persons in this place, police claim.

A Harvard man proves, by the failure of his classmates, that education doesn't pay. But maybe it just doesn't pay the kind that go to Harvard.

WATCH OUT!

PLAY SAFE! GET SILVERTOWNS

the Only Tires that give you Golden Ply Blow-out Protection

Driver: "A little more and that blow-out would have sent us clean through this fence and down the bank."

Girl: "We should have known that sooner or later gambling on tires ends this way."

When high-speed blow-out accidents are happening week in and week out, isn't it important to make sure that the tires on your car are specially constructed to give you real protection against this danger?

Remember, Goodrich Safety Silvertowns differ from all other tires made today. And here's why: They're the only tires in the world with the Life-Saver Golden Ply, a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the terrific blow-out-causing heat generated inside all tires by today's high speeds. By resisting this heat, the Golden Ply keeps rubber and fabric from separating. It keeps blisters from forming. Thus, the dangerous high-speed blow-out that might have caused a serious accident doesn't get a start.

And with winter not far away, don't forget that Silvertowns will also protect you from dangerous "tail spin" skids. The big ribs in the center of the tread act like the windshield wiper on your car, sweeping away water—giving the double outer rows of husky Silvertown cleats a drier surface to grip.

Don't gamble on tires. Prove to yourself what marvelous safety—months of extra mileage and real riding comfort you'll get with Goodrich Silvertowns. And imagine! They cost much less than other super-quality tires.

State Aid Will Be Forwarded

Checks, Long Delayed, Are
To Be Sent Out From Harrisburg

FUNDS PROVIDED
BY RECENT MOVE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 28.—Checks approximating $12,500,000 were expected to be sent by the State Treasury Department today to state-aided institutions, fourth class school districts, and Philadelphia and Pittsburgh schools.

These checks, State Treasury officials explained, represent overdue payments neglected in favor of providing funds for unemployment relief.
The money was expected to be made available today when the Dougherty, Corkran and company deposits $43,995,500 to cover its recent purchase of $45,000,000 in state tax anticipation notes issued for unemployment relief.

Pittsburgh, it was announced, will receive approximately $900,000 and Philadelphia, $600,000, all due last April for school aid. Fourth class school districts will receive $7,000,000 due last month and state-aided institutions approximately $4,000,000.

Checks were also ready, treasury officials said, to provide $2,150,000 due the state sinking fund on the retirement of soldiers' bonus bonds and for approximately $2,000,000 in back food orders and other routine bills.

Treasury attaches indicated approximately $6,000,000 will be sent out in checks during this week to provide for more outstanding relief orders, as soon as the detailed work can be accomplished.

The $43,995,500 was expected to be deposited with the Philadelphia
National Bank, loan and transfer agent for the state, today. It rep-

THE TORCH OF TRUTH KEEPS GLOWING

In Newspaper Advertising

THE READING PUBLIC . . .

Has come to accept without question that an advertiser in a reputable newspaper is telling the truth.

IT IS THE . . .

Clearly recognized responsibility of the Newspapers to keep this Torch of Truthful Advertising glowing.

PENNSYLVANIA . . .

Newspaper publishers recognize this duty as an ethical responsibility that likewise embodies a vital safeguard to the welfare of the newspaper business.

WHEN READER . . .

Confidence is shaken by untruthful advertising, publishers endanger the greatest asset a newspaper possesses — Goodwill. Too, there is financial loss, for when readers look upon an advertisement with critical eyes — unsure of its truth — that advertisement can not conceivably produce those results by which advertising success is measured.

THE MERCHANT . . .

Who stoops to misrepresentation and tricky advertising and who temporarily eludes the safeguards of an unsuspecting publisher, will benefit but briefly.
In the end, his tactics revealed, goodwill vanishes and his sales diminish in direct proportion to his abuse of public faith.

GREAT STRIDES . . .

Have been made in elevating the standards and ethics of newspaper advertising through elimination of fraudulent, exaggerated or misleading advertising copy. Constant vigilance and uncompromising rejection are the weapons with which Pennsylvania publishers have directed vigorous attack against that small fraction of advertisers who would transgress the lines of honesty and truth clearly laid down in the public interest. The great bulk of business today is on a plane higher than ever before. It recognizes the enormous value of Public Confidence. It goes to commendable extremes in its scrupulous honesty in advertising presentation, mindful that this policy constitutes sound business practice.

PUBLISHERS ALSO . . .

Maintain a position of "no compromise" with the unscrupulous who attempt subtle substitutions for nationally advertised products or who seek to trade upon low price appeal by concocting names similar in sound or appearance to those of nationally advertised brands. These violators of Public Confidence share the full measure of guilt of the brazen cheat and fraud, and with them the newspapers will make no truce.

READERS CAN HELP THIS TRUTH CRUSADE

Every month Pennsylvania newspapers reject many thousands of dollars in proffered business because the advertising involved fails to meet the standards they require.

Newspapers and the men who make them are not infallible and despite all the care and caution that the newspaper can exercise there are occasions, rare in number, in which fraud and misrepresentation may creep in. Newspaper publishers will appreciate your aid and co-operation in promptly bringing such violations to their attention so that remedial measures may be applied effectively.

Merchants who are planning and building for the future — and they constitute the great propound-ance of business interests in your city — do not try to trick the public. It is their desire to maintain and expand the public faith they have earned through truthfulness in their newspaper advertising.

Their Signatures to Advertisements Are Their Bonds

Yanks And Giants About On Par In Defensive Play

Yanks Have Edge In Hitting, Giants Hold Edge In Outfield

Yanks Pitchers Are Shade Better Than Those Of Giants

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Defensively, there is little to choose between Giants and Yanks.

Their catching is a stand-off, the Yanks have the tighter, faster infield, and the Giants the better outfield.

Defense has played a vital part in many a world series. Offhand, one recalls Fred Snodgrass' tragic miff of an easy fly, Hack Wilson's loss of a ball in the sun, Heinie Zimmerman's vain pursuit of Eddie Collins from third base to the plate and Hank Gowdy's stepping into his own mask.

No one can foresee such things as the two ground balls which struck peggies and bounced high over Freddy Lindstrom's head in the deciding game of the world series between Giants and Senators in 1924.

But, the breaks being equal, one may guess at what may happen in a defensive way.

Smart Catchers.

Gus Mancuso and Bill Dickey are good mechanical workmen, both are smart and both know how to handle their pitchers. We can look for good, steady jobs from both men.

The second base combinations figure on a par in a short series but the Yanks have the edge at first and third. Neither Lou Gehrig nor Red Rolfe ever did or ever will see the day they could field with Bill Terry or Travis Jackson when the Giant pair were at their peak. But both Giants now have slowed to a walk and both have crippled knees.

No Infield Advantage.

If Jackson and Terry can pull themselves together for this series, the Yanks will not have any advantage at all in the infield.

Bartell and Crossett figure about even. Crossett is perhaps a shade faster and can go further to his left than Bartell but the difference is hardly worth mentioning. Lazzeri is not as young or as fast as Whitehead and he can't cover as much ground but Tony is the brains of the Yanks and his uncanny knack of playing the hitters will easily put him on a par with his rival.

Edge In Outfield.

Joe Moore in left and Mel Ott in right give the Giants a decided edge on Jake Powell and George Selkirk, especially in the Polo grounds where the balls rebound in crazy fashion from the grandstand walls. Many fielders unused to the Giants' home park have played singles into triples by their unfamiliarity with the terrain.

In center the sensational young Joe DiMaggio with the best throwing arm in either league and speed to burn is the choice over either Hank Leiber or Rippe.

Yanks Better Team.

DiMaggio probably won't have much occasion to use his arm for the Giants are not a running team. Whitehead is the only one who runs and he is not likely to take any liberties with the Yankee trio. The Yanks likewise would be foolish to run wild against sharpshooters like Moore and Ott.

Summing it all up, the Yanks are the better team. They are at least the equal of the Giants on defense, they surpass the Giants with the stick, they are faster and just as smart and resourceful. But they haven't the pitching the Giants have—and pitching is still at least 80 per cent of a world series.

Shenango Is Defeated, 20-0

Glassport Gridders Romp Off Field With Impressive Victory Saturday

GAME PLAYED AT GLASSPORT

(Special To The News)

GLASSPORT, Sept. 28.—Glassport high school, 1935 co-champions of Class B of W. P. L. A. L., proved too strong for Shenango Township high grid team Saturday afternoon romping off the field with an impressive 20-0 triumph.

Glassport ran down the field for a touchdown in the opening quarter. Early in the initial chapter, Irwin, Shenango left half, dropped back to punt but the kick was blocked. Glassport recovering, a run by S. Mikovich and Laughlin moved the oval to the four where Laughlin plowed his way over the chalk mark for the first touchdown. Wargo kicked the extra point.

At the start of the second quarter, Alfredo, running through center, fumbled. Glassport snatched the pigskin, in midfield S. Mikovich carried the ball for 15 yards. Laughlin made another nice gain to place the ball in scoring position. After being stopped at center, S. Mikovich mowed his way through the Shenango line for the second score. Wargo again successfully kicked for the extra point. Score, Glassport 14, Shenango 0.

After the kickoff, Irwin punted. Laughlin caught a pretty pass and registered a 25 yard run before being downed. Melarsky camped under another Glassport pass, placing the ball a few yards away from the last chalkmark. S. Mikovich raced over the line for the final Glassport score. Score, Glassport 20, Shenango 0.

In the last half, Shenango played a splendid defensive ball. Glassport failed to make a first down in the last part of the game. Shenango never threatened. The playing of S. Mikovich and Laughlin was outstanding for the winners. Irwin and Kirkwood were Shenango's best players.

Next Friday afternoon, at Shenango field, Shenango high will oppose Zellenoph high in the first home game of the season.

Firemen Win, Deadlock Series

Manager Martin, Of Bessemer, Plans To Enter Protest

EJECT TWO PLAYERS IN EIGHTH INNING

Having defeated the Firemen 16 to 7 Saturday at Bessemer, the Martinmen from Bessemer bowed to the Firemen, 7 to 5, on Lee Avenue field yesterday, which deadlocked the series for the county baseball championship. The game was delayed 30 minutes yesterday by an argument.

Umpire Price called out Glenn Stanley at first base. Stanley is said to have made a "run" for the umpire and Campbell attempted to stop Stanley by seizing him. Both went down. Bessemer players went to Stanley's aid and fans and players alike swarmed onto the field.

The game was resumed after Stanley and Campbell had been ejected. Manager Martin said the Firemen's win would be protested. However, the chief umpire did not reverse Price's decision. Indications are that the fifth and deciding game will be played on the E. & A. Field, Seventh ward.

Hill On Mound

Manager Joe Zeigler of the Firemen started "Dutch" Hill on the mound against the cement town lads and he turned in a great victory. Hill was master of the Bessemer aggression throughout the nine inning struggle allowing but eight hits and fanned three of their men. It was an impressive victory for Hill because it marked the second time he has defeated them in the current five game series. Hill kept the Bessemer hits scattered throughout the game. The Firemen started off to a fine start, scoring two runs in the first inning. Bessemer then tied it up in the second by scoring two runs. The Arrangements are being made to promote amateur boxing at the Arena gardens. It is not yet known if the stage can be sufficiently set to start one week from tonight. However, if not, boxing will start two weeks from tonight. There has been no boxing here for months. Should it get under way boxing will be promoted twice monthly.

Joey Evans of Ellwood City, junior lightweight, will oppose Al Farone of Pittsburgh in a preliminary at Hickey park, Pittsburgh, tonight. The main bout will be fought by Sammy Angott of Washington and Lee Sheppard of Cleveland. There were 13 knockdowns in their last fight which was stopped and a technical knockout given to Angott.

Lou Gehrig, Yankee first baseman, equalled his best slugging year to take the league's home run championship. He turned in 49. The Yankee team made a total of 182 four-ply swats.

Putting together a best ball, card of 64, five under par for the Riverside layout at Cambridge Springs, Earl Rowley on Lancaster and Hugh Mauck of Fort Meyers, Fla., won the 18-hole pro-amateur tournament at the Riverside club Sunday.

They rounded the turn with a best ball of 31, one stroke back of Eddie Tabor of New Bethlehem and Art Matthews of Pittsburgh. However, they picked up two shots on the leaders coming back and snatched first place by one stroke.

Colgate Folds Up To Duke At Durham, Louisiana

State Tops Rice

PITT DISPLAYS POWER, 53 TO 0

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Evidence tending to show that gate receipts are a persuasive factor in football schedule-making can be found today in the hangover from Saturday's games in which two national leaders—Washington and Colgate—were knocked off and Minnesota, Duke and Louisiana State made untimely passes at championship honors.

The season doesn't get down to serious business for another week, and not even then in some instances, yet record already have been risked for a price in three games that might have been fitted into the middle of the schedule instead of serving as openers.

A capacity crowd of nearly 40,000 was jammed into the stadium at Seattle for the day's outstanding attraction, and Minnesota profited doubly, winning its 18th straight game in a streak running through two other seasons and getting a whack of those lush receipts. But Washington, which had been ranked among the top western powers, emerged unmistakably whipped, 14 to 7.

Colgate stuck its chin out in similar fashion in going down to Durham, N. C., for its opening game away from home against Duke, which previously had done its warming up against Davidson. The outcome was approximately as expected, 6 to 0, in favor of the southerners.

Louisiana Wins

Down at Baton Rouge, Louisiana State opened against Rice, strong Texas contingent, and reversed the outcome of last year's opening encounter between the two. Rice won before, after which L. S. U. took nine straight, and made it 10 Saturday, 20 to 7, completing the day's slate of outstanding attraction.

In each of those games the outcome was more or less of a toss-up and in others the opposition for name teams was negligible with the result that the day procured no upsets of national import.

In the east, Dartmouth, Holy Cross, Navy, Pitt and Cornell all won handily, the last named running up the high score against a spartan named Alfred of 74 to 0.

Alabama, Georgia, Southern Methodist, Tennessee, Tulane, Vanderbilt, Virginia, V. M. I., and North Carolina came through in the south and southwest, Tulane getting a scare in beating Mississippi by 7 to 6.

Illinois, Chicago, Iowa, Purdue, Michigan State and Wisconsin won in the mid-west and California Southern California, Washington State, and Santa Clara scored in the far west, the latter trimming Stanford, 13 to 0.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Duke Dinsmore of California became the first two-time winner at the Sharon speedway this year when he captured the feature 30-lap event Sunday in 13:07. Dinsmore whipped Howdy Cox of Dallas, after he had taken the lead from Wilson Shaffer of Chesterland, O., on the 17th lap.

Luke Appaling of the Chicago White Sox and Paul Wanner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, are the 1936 batting champions of the American and National leagues, respectively, on the basis of unofficial returns for the season. Appaling wound up with a 10-point lead over Earl Averill of Cleveland. Wanner regained the title he won in 1934 finishing six points ahead of Babe Phelps of Brooklyn this year.

Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the New York Giants in a professional football game at Pittsburgh yesterday by a score of 10 to 7, the defeat sending the Giants to bottom place in the National league. More than 25,000 spectators attended the game. It was the first time in seven games with the Giants that the Pirates won.

Mr. Marshall, a pony from the Marshall stables, Wampum, ridden by Harold Marshall, Jr., won the pony class. Another pony from the stables, Topsey, also ridden by Harold Marshall, Jr., came second in the feet and hands class, and ridden by John Marshall, came third in the musical chair class.

Mr. Marshall can be justly proud of George Arliss, a five-gaited horse just purchased by him a few days ago. It won first place in the model saddle class Saturday afternoon over a field of high class horses from North Side Pittsburgh, East Liverpool, Butler and many Beaver Valley stables.

Smith Defeats Izzy Solomon In Golf Match

Jimmy Smith Wins Castle Hills Championship For Third Straight Year

SMITH RECORDS 69 FOR 18 HOLES

Jimmy Smith, well known New Castle amateur golfer for the third straight year holds the championship of Castle Hills golf course. Smith's toughest match of the three years occurred yesterday when in a 36-hole playoff with Izzy Solomon, the local banker, finished 2 up and 1 to go.

Smith recorded a very brilliant 69 card for the afternoon 18 holes, this being three under par which was the first time in the afternoon. Smith played a ragged game on the first nine in the afternoon and was five down at the end of the first nine. He had a 38 card against a sub-par 33 for Smith. Smith had an eagle on No. 8, being on in two and down in one putt. Smith also had a birdie on No. 4, with a three, and was one over on the second hole, for the only above par of the first nine. Solomon was three over par for the first nine, but settled down to a steady pace on the back nine and came in three under par with a blazing 34 card, having three birdies and all of the rest even par. Smith played a steady game on the back nine and turned in a 36 for a 69 card for the afternoon 18 holes.

Very Fine Golf

In the morning with a gallery of over 100 following them, Smith and Solomon played steady golf to end up all even for the 18 holes. Smith recorded a 75 and Solomon did likewise. The afternoon gallery numbered about 200 spectators. W. M. Nunn and Johnny Hodge played with Smith and Solomon in the morning and acted as referees.

Beaver Falls Wins, Washington Loses, Sharon Wins

Another, Martins Ferry Ahead

New Castle High opponents for the remainder of the year should have a lot of power Saturday as they ran up big scores.

Beaver Falls High was impressive in a 13 to 0 upset of the strong Shenley High team of Pittsburgh. The Waltonmen will play at New Castle this coming Friday night, and it should be a fine game.

Martins Ferry High again turned on the heat Saturday and romped over small East Palestine, Ohio team 46 to 0. Sharon High gave further evidence of strength this year by landing Royen High of Youngstown a 13 to 0 defeat.

Washington High didn't dare so well losing to New Kensington High 7 to 6 in a tough engagement.

Midland was stopped by Rochester 20 to 12 last Friday night Erie Academy whipped Warren 13 to 0 at Warren. No reports are obtainable on the Erie East game, nor the Massillon-Mansfield game.

Locals Lose To North Park Team

Pittsburgh Golfers Defeat Sylvan Heights Team On Local Course Sunday

Handicapped by the absence of a half dozen of the ace golfers from the Sylvan Heights course, the local public links team lost to North Park of Pittsburgh by a score of 21½ to 14½ Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Marshall can be justly proud of George Arliss, a five-gaited horse just purchased by him a few days ago. It won first place in the model saddle class Saturday afternoon over a field of high class horses from North Side Pittsburgh, East Liverpool, Butler and many Beaver Valley stables.

Smith had an eagle on No. 8, being on in two and down in one putt. Smith also had a birdie on No. 4, with a three, and was one over on the second hole, for the only above par of the first nine. Solomon was three over par for the first nine, but settled down to a steady pace on the back nine and came in three under par with a blazing 34 card, having three birdies and all of the rest even par. Smith played a steady game on the back nine and turned in a 36 for a 69 card for the afternoon 18 holes.

Beaver Falls Wins, Washington Loses, Sharon Wins

Another, Martins Ferry Ahead

New Castle High opponents for the remainder of the year should have a lot of power Saturday as they ran up big scores.

Beaver Falls High was impressive in a 13 to 0 upset of the strong Shenley High team of Pittsburgh. The Waltonmen will play at New Castle this coming Friday night, and it should be a fine game.

Martins Ferry High again turned on the heat Saturday and romped over small East Palestine, Ohio team 46 to 0. Sharon High gave further evidence of strength this year by landing Royen High of Youngstown a 13 to 0 defeat.

Washington High didn't dare so well losing to New Kensington High 7 to 6 in a tough engagement.

Midland was stopped by Rochester 20 to 12 last Friday night Erie Academy whipped Warren 13 to 0 at Warren. No reports are obtainable on the Erie East game, nor the Massillon-Mansfield game.

Wallick Ready To Meet Banaski

Several Ex-Collegians Appear In Mat Bouts At Arena Gardens

NELSON AND GALINTO IN SEMI-FINAL BOUT

SPIKE ASHBY

Arena Gardens, Neshannock avenue, is ready to absorb fadom at the wrestling bout between Leo Wallick of Youngstown and Steve Banaski, former light heavyweight champion, tonight.

Wallick and Banaski wrestled 45 minutes to a fast draw last Monday night and in anticipation of another hot bout fans await the sounding of the gong at 8:30 p. m.

Wallick appeared here previously to his bout with Tony Marchoni, but never to better advantage.

According to the articles of agreement they are scheduled to meet for a bout to one fall or 90 minutes duration. It is likely that one of them will score a fall.

The fans will be seeing almost a steady performer here when Swede Nelson grabs holds with Tony Galinto, who is said to have won the heavyweight championship of the Big Ten.

Stacey Hall, who hails from Columbus, and whom is a graduate of Ohio State, will meet Bob Blake in the second preliminary. Hall weighs 150 pounds.

Fans will see another collegian in Stacy Hall, who played on the Ohio State grid team in 1932. In that same year he won the welterweight championship in the national tournament at Grand Rapids, and in 1933 won from Jackie Reynolds in a catchweights bout. Stacy is scheduled to oppose Bob Blake, who is well known here.

Spike Ashby, a former sailor, will meet Joe Szabo in the opening bout. Among those Ashby has defeated are Benny Reuben and Eddie Shabu. Like Stacy Hall, Ashby and Szabo are light and no doubt there will be plenty of speed when they begin clutching each other.

Bessemer High Wallops Monaca

Cement City Gridders Function Well In 25-0 Triumph Saturday

BESSEMER THROWS NUMEROUS LATERALS

(Special To The News)
MONACA, Pa., Sept. 28.—Bewildering their opponents with a storm of successful laterals, Bessemer high school football team romped off the Monaca field Saturday afternoon, with an impressive 25-0 triumph.

The Bessemer backfield men, Shoup, Calderaro, Gallena and D. DeArment, tossed laterals to each other all afternoon. It was really a treat to watch the Cement City representatives move the oval around so successfully.

Shoup Tallies
In the second period, Bessemer recovered a Monaca fumble in mid-field to reach offensive territory for the first time. After a series of plays, Calderaro ran off-tackle for a nice gain. As he was about to be tackled he flipped a lateral to Shoup who ran 30 yards for the first score. Shoup also kicked the extra point.

In the third period, D. DeArment blocked the loose ball and after a short return, was tackled on the 50 yard line. Calderaro on an end run, was forced inside, but as he was about to be tackled, he threw a lateral to Dick DeArment, who negotiated the remaining 35 yards for the second touchdown. Shoup's kick for the extra point was blocked.

In the final period, Bessemer's offense really opened up. Fine holes were opened in Monaca's line by Skocic and Mittica, enabling Shoup to rip off eight and ten yards at a try. The ends and half backs handled the tackles nicely, while D. DeArment, Anderson and Shoup gave fine interference as the backs ran off tackle and around end for substantial gains.

Calderaro Scores
Starting from mid-field, Calderaro reeled off 25 yards around end. Gallena followed with nine yards more. Two more plays gave Bessemer a first down on Monaca's four-yard line. On the next play Calderaro crossed the goal line untouched. Shoup's kick was wide.

Skocic, on the kick-off, kicked a twisting grounder that eluded the Monaca backs. When Monaca failed to cover the ball behind the goal line Shuman, Bessemer guard, playing heads up, covered the ball for the fourth score. Calderaro's attempted kick was low.

Bessemer functioned well in the impressive victory and served notice to Lawrence County Class B teams that it will be in the thick of the fight for the coveted laurels. The entire team played well.

FIREMEN WIN, DEADLOCK SERIES

Firemen came back in the fourth inning with a run and from then on they were never headed. Hill kept their bats silent until the eighth when they pushed over two more runs.

Manager Jim Martin of Bessemer called upon his left handed ace Hardesty to try for another victory over the "fire-eaters." It was Hardesty who defeated the Firemen in the opening game at Bessemer. The Firemen got to Hardesty in the first inning for three hits and two runs and again in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings they scored one run which pushed their totals to five and at this point of the game "Lefty" Hardesty went in the game but the Firemen continued their onslaught by scoring two more runs in the seventh inning to move their total for the day to seven which proved the margin of victory. On the combined offerings of these two hurlers, the Firemen pounded out a total of fifteen safeties.

Hits Homer
Heavy hitting again featured the game with another home run being registered. This time Benson, center-fielder for Bessemer, drove one to deep center for a home run which proved the longest hit of the game.

Andy Gall, the stellar first baseman of the Firemen proved the outstanding hitter of the afternoon by getting four hits, a triple, double and two singles. On the fifth time up, Gall laid down a beautiful sacrifice to end a perfect day at bat. Vlah, center fielder for Bessemer, was the only one able to touch Hill effectively, he received credit for three hits including a triple and two singles. Doubles were also obtained by Tom McCormick, Peck Huston, Don Campbell and Pen Maher.

Fielding on the part of both teams also was an outstanding feature. Pen Maher, right-fielder for the Firemen made two one-handed catches which thrilled the large crowd of fans. Bill Gall also played a whole of a game at short-stop for the Firemen. For Bessemer, Benson center-fielder came through with some mighty fine catches. Glenn Stanley also played a fine game at second base for Bessemer.

Two Former Stars In High School Seeking Berths

Two former New Castle high school gridders are candidates for positions on Cleveland's professional team.

Benjamin "Red" Ciccone, former Duquesne and Pittsburgh Pirates player, is battling for the center berth. Ciccone tops the beams at 220 pounds. Ciccone, 25, former Ohio State star, and an All-American, will likely get the center berth. Merle McIntosh, former New Castle high and Duke gridders, is trying for the fullback post. Mike Sebastian, of Sharon, Pitt. Union star, is battling for one of the backfield positions.

Green Champion At Field Club

Former West Penn Junior Champion Takes Title By Beating Gilliland

Herman Green, son of Adolph Green, of Wallace avenue, and a student at Notre Dame, where he plays on the South Bend golfing team, is the new 1936 champion of the New Castle Field Club. It was announced by Angelo "Dike" Monsey, pro at the club today.

Green defeated New Castle's veteran of the links, M. K. Gilliland 9 and 8 in a scheduled 36 hole match for the championship.

Green Fine Golfer
The new champion shot a beautiful round of golf to win the title. At the end of the first 18 holes Green held a lead of seven up on Gilliland. Green was shooting pars and birdies with regularity.

This is the second title held by the popular young Green as he won the West Penn Junior championship one year at Greensburg. He is one of the best golfers in the city and one of the best at Notre Dame. He will probably play the number one spot for the Irish niblick swingers this year.

Nip and Tuck Game.
It was a nip and tuck affair in the first quarter after Ellwood had received the kickoff with neither team being able to make any consistent headway.

Harold Young blocked a punt to give Ellwood possession of the ball on the Uniontown 34. The Wolverines failed to take advantage of this as plays and passes failed and finally had to punt. Some good punting by Bill Young kept the ball in Uniontown territory in this period. The only first down in the period was made in three plays by Bill Young towards the close. He picked up four yards on a spinner, two through left guard and seven through center. The period ended when the Mitchellmen had picked up seven more yards in two plays.

In the second quarter when Young crashed through left guard for six yards and a first down. When two more plays failed Young punted to the Ellwood team in the shadow of the goal posts. Sloan crashed through left guard for the touchdown from the six-yard line. He went over center for the extra point which proved to be the final score of the day, and avenged their 21-6 setback here last year.

Ellwood received the kick-off in the third quarter and made two straight first downs. Young was off on the third on one of the long runs of the day for 16 yards. But the ball was brought back and Ellwood was penalized five yards for being offside. Just before the close of the period a pass from

ELLWOOD IS BEATEN BY UNIONTOWN HIGH

Long Drive In Second Quarter Gives Uniontown 7-0 Victory Saturday

INJURY STOPS LOCAL RALLY IN FOURTH

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 28.—A sustained drive of orthodox football in the second quarter gave Uniontown a 7-0 victory over Ellwood City high at Uniontown last Saturday afternoon in a bitterly fought game before a large crowd.

The blue and white Wolverines did not lack for support. A big delegation of students and fans plus the high school band followed their favorite team to Uniontown to cheer their playing. With the exception of the last quarter by the Ellwood Wolverines the game was played on fairly even terms.

The burden of the game Saturday fell mostly upon the backfield, which did a noble job of backing up the line and made about two-thirds of the tackles in the game. Ellwood's highly touted forward wall did not live up to expectations as time and again Uniontown's ball carriers would find big holes to scurry thru. The line work improved only after Coach Bill Mitchell sent in a flock of substitutes to fill up the gaps. In reality the sub linemen proved more effective at this time than the first stringers. Injuries to valuable members of the Ellwood team in the line and a damper on the performance of the locals. In fact a touchdown drive in the fourth quarter was stopped on the enemy 15-yard line when Ellwood's pile-driving fullback and spark plug, Bill Young, received an injury to his knee and was supported off the field. Shortly before a similar fate befell Jim Flannagan, regular left end.

Rochester Is Next.
For the next three weeks the Ellwood high Wolverines will be at home beginning with Rochester on Saturday. The valley eleven is going to be a tough nut to crack judging from its performances in the past two weeks. They held the powerful Aliquippa team to a 13-6 score in the first game and last Saturday upset Midland 20-12 in a thrilling game. The locals will have to improve considerably if they are to stop this combination coached by Emory Myers.

Ellwood Launches Drive.
Ellwood's most serious threat of the day was made shortly after the opening of the final stanza. An exchange of punts and a return gave the Wolverines possession of the ball on their own 26. Koah picked up two yards through center on a quarterback sneak. Two passes, Young to Furnari, was good for seven yards and Young to Blaine for 12 yards. Another pass failed and then Galati made six yards on a quarterback sneak. A pass from Young to Furnari was good when the referee ruled interference and gave Ellwood another first down.

On the first play Young found a big hole at center, shook loose a tackler and was out in the open. After a run of 17 yards he was brought down from behind and was injured. This placed the ball on Uniontown's 15. Young was replaced by the diminutive Tommy Jones who filled the air with football for the remainder of the game. He threw two beautiful passes which caused the Ellwood fans to groan. One to Pehl out in the open was fumbled and the other to Blaine over the goal line was juggled. The game ended shortly after Uniontown took possession of the ball on downs.

In the Ellwood line Gib, Daufen, Flannagan and Blaine did yeoman work while Young and Furnari held the limelight in the backfield. Galati, Koah and Myers were good on defense here. For Uniontown, Miller, Kacur, Sabo and Mandalek were outstanding in the line, while Sloan, Darby and Farmer were best in the backfield.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TAKING COD LIVER OIL. No one needs to tell you about the value of cod liver oil. You have been reading. You know your little children need it that your older children may, and that it may be the very thing for you yourself to take.

Parents who begin early with the baby need meet with no difficulty except as they or other members of the family may offer bad suggestions. It is an easy thing for you or me to make an ugly face, or drop an indiscreet remark in the child's presence, and thereby do no end of harm.

First we need to learn enough self-control to avoid being such a nuisance. If necessary, we shall learn to take cod liver oil ourselves without aid.

Though it may seem more economical to buy cod liver oil from the gallon or the quart, to do so is not practical. The oil may deteriorate, grow rancid. Better get it in small quantities, and keep it fresh and cool. Carefully wipe off the bottle's mouth after each dosage.

Suppose your child of two or three years, or older, seriously objects to taking cod liver oil. If

Although an extensive survey was made of a part of Union township with the object in view of installing a sewer system, the proposition seems to have fallen flat. Difficulty in arranging payments seems to have been the trouble. Some were willing to pay and others were not and the law is such that assessments could not be made. The Youngstown hill section and the West Washington street sections are badly in need of a sanitary sewer.

Says Landon Is Certain To Carry West Virginia

Hamilton Declares 300 Electoral Votes Now Sure For G. O. P. Nominee

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Back from an eastern trip, John Hamilton, chairman of the G. O. P. national committee, added West Virginia to the states he claims as certain Republican, and asserted that Gov. Alfred M. Landon now is assured of well over three hundred electoral votes.

Declaring that New York and Pennsylvania also are "in the bag" Hamilton added:

"Our crowd in New York has been confident for months. I think New York is going Republican without question and I am confident of it in my own mind. I wish I felt as confident of some other states."

The national chairman said the Republicans will get a normal labor vote, despite the Works Progress Administration and other influences.

"Labor's main interest is in recovery. There is no real recovery. There is no increase in capital industry. There is just as much unemployment as four years ago, and the government has spent millions."

"If recovery is having 18,000,000 on relief rolls it is a sorry condition. Maybe it is Roosevelt's idea of recovery, but it is not what the nation is looking for."
